AMERICAN ENAMEL CO'S PATENT WROUGHT IRON

Enameled WATER PIPE.

This pipe is enameled on its inner surface both in the usual way which gives it a hard, glossy surface, and I prevents it from rust or corrosion, as Dana Hayes, State Assayer, and Chemist for the State of Maine, has made a complete analysis in connection with some of this enamel pipe, and he says about your Enameled Pipe, but the severe tests which I have employed proves that it is perfectly harmless, and possesses great durability, for those holding the properties of most perfect to its service.

All sizes of this and Wrought Iron Pipe and fittings constantly on hand, and for sale at lowest market prices.

HINCKLEY & EGERY IRON COMPANY,

MACHINISTS AND IRON FOUNDERS,

BANGOR, MAINE,

Manufacturers of T. H. EGERY'S IMPROVED TURBINE WATER WHEEL,

Patented April 14, 1874.

This Water Wheel, being of a form differing in advantages over others heretofore in use, combines the following advantages over others heretofore in use, viz:

In Wheels of this class where the buckets are perpendicular, the bottom of the bucket has a tendency to run away from the ring, since the water acting upon it has a greater lever or fall, and consequently a greater velocity than that acting upon the upper part of the buckets; for instance, if the wheel is one foot wide, the water acting upon the upper part of the buckets is under a pressure of one foot of head, while that acting upon the lower part of the buckets is under a pressure of twelve feet of head, or twelve times greater than that acting upon the upper part of the buckets. This is obviated in my wheel, by making the upper part of the bucket project in advance of the lower part of the wheel, about the same proportion that the bottom of the buckets do when the wheel runs in the water. VULCANIZED RUBBER COATED PIPE

This pipe has two layers of pure rubber, both inside and outside and inside, each layer being vulcanized on. This coating is unaffected by any acid or alkali, does not rust, crack or peel, thus making it the most durable and perfect pipe in use for conducting water.

It has been used for years in many cities where it has been thoroughly tested, and has received the highest testimonials for its superiority over pipes coated or calmed with other substances.

After a careful examination of its merits, it has been adopted by the

2d. BLAINE'S WEALTH.

[illegible] in regard to the threatened [illegible] of Mr. Blaine's health, though exceedingly unwelcome, is not all surprising. Many surprises indeed, as felt it his duty, should have attended him to work so much exercise so quickly after [illegible]—although it is very likely that no such happens in such cases, the patient may have taken his work out into his own hands. But when a man known to have been suffering for some time under a [illegible] attack, is thrown into the [illegible] which taxes nearly half a day at a stretch to read, it is but the common instinct of [illegible] to suppose that his constitution is [illegible] a break from which recovery day by day is [illegible] and slow. No [illegible] of system can [illegible] of much avail, for the greater it is the greater must have been the strain which finally overcame it. When a fever is [illegible] up it makes little difference whether the wire is [illegible] or something before it. [illegible] are concerned. It, however, only the muscles are carried by disease, and the intellect remains true, though the sledge is not raised there and patience and good [illegible] will make recovery sure. That we take [illegible] with Mr. Blaine. He has [illegible] proposition that even [illegible] and indomitable will [illegible] to [illegible] of overexertion. In [illegible] and every [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] would be more properly in the province of the [illegible] and [illegible] with [illegible] hundred strong and vigorous men beyond the line of physical endurance, and [illegible] to a strain and a test both mental and physical that few other [illegible] men in the country could have borne. It is [illegible] case of burning outrage we are impatient of platitudes about [illegible] in stern disaster," when addressed to a man who has been fighting for a reputation dearer than life. [illegible] the proper unscrupulous combination of connected that ever [illegible] our country. Apply your prescription to them, neighbor Journal.

Maine should not be too cocksure to Massachusetts. It was the Commonwealth that [illegible] a majority of Maine for Vice President, and has now prevented an [illegible] of the whole State from becoming the debt of incumbent of the White House.—Boston Evening [illegible].

Massachusetts [illegible] daughter, Maine, isn't feeling badly touted in the just now. The sparkling [illegible] gave her at Cincinnati [illegible] was quite over. "Twas always thus from childhood's hour," Springfield Republican.

The above extract [illegible] show the only spirit of the journals quoted, to [illegible] a word of correction. The Republicans of Maine have cause to denounce the cowardly duplicity of certain Massachusetts delegates, but it is a great mistake for those papers to imagine that their desperate and malignant influence in the Cincinnati Convention or that we credit them with the ability of effectively their results. Those who heard Col. Ingersoll's speech and its enthusiastic response from the Convention gave a very distinct notion as to who received "spanking" at Cincinnati. Certainly neither journalists but those of Massachusetts would have the sublime effrontery to boast over the humiliation of their State in its Limentable misrepresentation in a National Convention.

During the recent absence of the Senior Editor of the Kennebec Journal who attended the Cincinnati Convention, and visited the Centennial Exhibition, his colleague, Howard Owen, Esq., conducted the political department in addition to his other labors, and is entitled to congratulation upon the ability and vigor displayed in his writings. He wields a strong and keen pen and the violent personal abuse with which he was assailed by the disreputable Standard was but a tribute to the effectiveness of his articles.

Among the warm supporters of Mr. Blaine at Cincinnati, no one was more earnest than the editor of the Newark, Ohio, Advocate. His district, for a time, two of the fifteen Ohio delegates, who were only prevented from voting for Mr. Blaine by the unexpected good fortune of their State candidate, and the people of that section were full of enthusiasm for the Maine Statesman. In the first issue of his paper Mr. Clark gives voice to what was generally expressed at Cincinnati as follows:

"No man who, for any reason, would stand in the way of a Convention as that at Cincinnati last week and say that the State of Massachusetts couldn't be carried for any other man than Benjamin H. Bristow, ought never to be confirmed by the United States Senate for any position. We are thoroughly satisfied now that the Senate did right in rejecting Bristow."

We happened to know that there was at least one man in the Maine delegation at Cincinnati who felt relieved when Blaine failed to receive the nomination—Boston Globe.

We happen to know that the readers for the Boston Herald never tell the truth intentionally, and this one of the Maine delegation at Cincinnati was chosen as the alleged truthful is a scandalous falsehood. We challenge the writer of that paragraph to substantiate it over his own signature. Has the anonymous scamp not to thus libel the sincerity of honorable men without the clue to avoid allowing himself

We are very glad to see editor of the Portland Advertiser explode the characteristic spite against the Republicans of this District in a contemptible report of our Convention. That paper is a mouthful of the disorganizers and mischief-makers and its support is right to be fatal to any candidate. It expresses regret that no one will lend a bolt in this District, but considers that Mr. Powers is bound to be elected. We think that paper admirably adapted to the champion ship of Mr. Burleigh, and with him for its support.

Emery gives Talbot, the Democratic nominee, rather a flagging support. Emery was laid out stark and cold as delegate to Louisville by Frank Hill.—Kennebec Journal.

NEW MAGAZINES.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for July is well stocked with good matter. It begins with an agreeable chapter by Charles Dudley Warner, "From Jaffa to Jerusalem," which is followed by a vigorous second instalment of Mr. James's novel, "The American." Mrs. Kemble's "Old Woman's Gossip" relates in a [illegible] style her appearance on the stage, and contains anecdotes of Sir Thomas Lawrence, Sheridan and other entertaining personages. General O. O. Howard's "Campaign and Battle of Gettysburg" is an interesting and valuable record of the great battle and how it was fought. Charles Francis Adams, Jr., has a short article on "The State of Nature," in which he [illegible] the Rousseau theories of the Declaration of Independence, and Colonel Higginson's "Story of the Sight" is the number. In this number, is a concise and reliable review of the subject. The illustrations of this paper are up to striking. But the contents of this has shown that some of our [illegible] forth the box and cherished legends of the Declaration will not do to "tie to." But if we must give up the "ring of Grandpa," as Colonel Higginson seems to think, we shall still be by way of compensation, plenty of authentic legends about Washington in the newspapers. "A Little Centennial Lady," by Mrs. Constance Cary Harrison, is a delightful, illustrated sketch of Sally Fairfax, Colonel Washington's pet and friend. This is a rare piece of magazine writing, and embodies portions of Sally's journal, written in the quaintest of language. Miss Jane Stuart writes really of [illegible]

DOMESTIC NEWS.

FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS—First Session.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 26

Mr. Logan, from the Military Committee, reported with amendments the House bill to equalize bounties. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Morrill, of Me., called up the message of the President in regard to completing unexpended balances of appropriations into the next fiscal year, and moved it be referred to the Committee on Appropriations. So ordered.

The District of Columbia bill and the army appropriation were discussed at considerable length, the Senate Committee having struck out the House provisions reorganizing the army, as requiring more deliberation than can be given at this late period of the session.

The amendment to strike out the eight sections was agreed to—yeas 24, nays 19. Mr. Maxey voted with the Republicans in the affirmative. The other amendments proposed by the committee were agreed to. The bill as amended was reported to the Senate and passed. Adjourned.

House.

Mr. Snyder occupied the chair. Several bills were introduced.

Mr. Kasson offered a joint resolution that when the two houses adjourn on Saturday, it be to meet at ten o'clock, Tuesday, July 4th, in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, there to consider the first resolution commemorative of the Centennial anniversary of American independence. Referred to Committee on Centennial.

Mr. Neal of Ohio (Dem.) introduced a bill providing for the resumption of the Resumption act and moved the previous question. The point of order raised by Kasson was after discussion overruled. The previous question was not seconded—97 to 100, and Kasson, rising to debate it the bill went over under the rule.

Mr. Randall, from the Conference Committee on the Legislative appropriation bill, reported that they had been unable to agree, and on his motion a new committee were appointed, consisting of Randall, Springer and Kasson.

Mr. Savage of Ohio (Dem.) moved to put on its passage the bill to repeal that section of the Resumption act which took effect by lapse of time, proviso to same had not been given, was sustained and the motion was not entertained.

A motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill to continue for the next fiscal year appropriations made for the current year was rejected—55 to 124.

Springer, of Ill., (Dem.) offered a resolution instructing the Banking Committee to report to-morrow a bill repealing the resumption act.

Dennison, of Vt., interposed a motion to adjourn which was lost, but the morning hour expiring the matter went over.

Terry, of Virginia, moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill reviving the law for payment for horses and equipments lost during the war, and extending time for filing claims. Adopted.

Caldwell, of Tenn., moved to suspend the rules and adopt a series of resolutions about retrenchment and the relative authority of the two branches of Congress, but no quorum voting the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON.

The Bounty Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 26. The Senate Military Committee is reporting favorably to-day on the House bill to equalize bounties amended it by striking from the list of its beneficiaries all sailors and marines, slaves and Indians; also by omitting the requirement that bounties received under State laws shall be deducted from the total of $8.33⅓ for each month of service, provided by the bill.

Representative Randall

did not leave for St. Louis last night as intended, owing to the condition of bills reported from the Committee on Appropriations, of which he has charge.

The Silver Bill.

The House Committee on Banking, at their meeting to-day, rescinded their former action and agreed to concur in the Senate amendment to the Silver bill, in regard to making the trade dollar a legal tender, and directed Mr. Payne to report the bill to the House.

NEW YORK CITY.

Murderous Rowdyism.

NEW YORK, June 26. A gang of six young ruffians yesterday morning assaulted every person they met in Union Square, with garden sticks which they had stolen from flower beds. A respectable German baker named Schreiber resisted the attack on him, when one of them run the pointed end of a stick into his eye, piercing to the brain. The man was dying last night. The young ruffian was arrested.

Another Strike.

The stone cutters of Brooklyn are on a strike, caused by employers voting not to employ men belonging to the society, as the latter insists on fining employers $100 for each non-society man put to work. As there is not much work under contract, the employers adhere to their position.

Reporting the Mail Service.

Postmaster James received orders to-day from the Postmaster General to reduce the force in the Post Office here ten per cent on the 1st of July. If this is carried out the business will be seriously crippled, as the expense of the office have been reduced $45,000 during the past year.

HOT WEATHER.

In New York.

NEW YORK, June 26. Fish, weather is extremely hot. The thermometer at 8:30 o'clock A. M., ranged from 83° to 87° in the shade.

THE ST. LOUIS CONVENTION.

Hendricks Not Considered Active Opposition to Tilden.

ST. LOUIS, June 26. The Hendricks men are feeling more confident than yesterday. A Hendricks band is parading the streets. Meanwhile the anti-Tilden leaders are working with energy. A conference was held at the Southern Hotel last night, which was attended by representatives from different delegations opposed to Tilden. Addresses were made by Roger A. Pryor and John Kelley. The object of the meeting was to see what they can count on. They report they are strong enough to defeat Tilden, but indicated no choice.

Tilden Delegations.

The delegations of Massachusetts and Wisconsin held meetings and agreed to cast the vote of each delegation solid for Tilden. The Tilden managers express the greatest confidence of ultimate success. It is believed the two-thirds rule will stand.

The Greenbackers.

A paper was laid before the National Committee this morning by the greenback delegation from New York, asking that seats in the Convention assigned to New York be left vacant until the credential committee reports which delegation is entitled to the seats. The greenback delegation demands that both be put upon the same footing before the organization. It is signed by Gil Tucker.

The Maine Delegation

is now complete and may be regarded as solid for Tilden. The Maryland delegation is also secured while they have strong preference for Bayard they are willing to vote for any man who can carry the election. The New Hampshire delegation elected Geo. P. Hamblen, chairman.

A Tammany Statesman Arrested.

Tammany statesman was arrested in the Lindell Hotel, St. Louis last night, charged he was about enforcing a political argument with a pistol ball.

Davis Not Unwilling.

Last night the friends of Judge David Davis in Bloomington, Ill., felt authorized to deny that he will decline the Democratic nomination, if such nomination is made. He declined to talk on the subject personally.

The Tilden Organization Showing its Strength.

Evening.—There is no organized effort of great force for any candidate except Tilden. The audacity of his supporters sweeps everything before it and makes the opinion of other men seem puerile. His friends claim almost everything and his nomination on the 2d ballot with the requisite two-thirds, for the two-thirds rule will be adhered to.

Southern Delegates Reticent.

After all the result will depend on the action of the Southern delegates who have up to this time been mostly lookers on. They want the North to select the strong-est candidate and then they will support him.

John Morrissey is working among the delegates for Tilden.

Seymour Again Declines.

At a meeting of the New York delegation this evening a letter was read from Horatio Seymour positively declining any nomination. An informal ballot gave Tilden 53; Seymour 7; Hendricks 7; Church, Hoffman, Hancock and Bayard 1 each. A resolution was adopted that the delegation vote as a unit until released by a majority of it, and that 23 delegates shall have power to call a meeting.

Indiana Still for Hendricks.

Rumors of a combination between Tilden and Hendricks are contradicted by Gen. Manson, who says Indiana will vote for Hendricks first and last and that she will not take a second place on the ticket with Tilden.

The Financial Bugbear.

There is likely to be a fierce fight on the money question and a number of delegates are urging that nothing be said on the subject.

Pennsylvania to Stand by Hancock.

10.30 P. M.—The hopes of the opponents of Tilden now centre around Pennsylvania. This state has resolved to vote for Hancock and to continue to vote for him with no second choice behind. This action they think will draw to their support enough States on the second ballot to prevent the nomination of Tilden, and then Mr. Allen of Ohio being out of the way that State would be added to the Hancock column, and the following later by Hendricks's supporters.

Tilden's Strength.

The count for Tilden on the first ballot now exceeds 500. The Tammany leaders so loftily disparaged as to be about ready to give up the contest, and at this hour it looks as if Tilden would sweep the U.

At a meeting of the National Committee, Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, was selected as temporary chairman of the Convention. This was the first victory for Tilden.

THE TREASURY.

Doubts as to Senator Morrill's Acceptance.

WASHINGTON, June 26. Senator Morrill to-day had a long interview at Secretary Bristow's office. The conversation having reference to the existing condition of the appropriation bills and the embarrassment which presented itself to the Senator on the subject of relinquishing his office as Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations to accept the office of Secretary of the Treasury. The report, quite prevalent to-day, that Mr. Morrill will not qualify as Secretary, is conditioned well founded. It is not impossible that the Senator will regard it only consistent with the public service to decline the position, and the President may send another nomination to the Senate before the last of July.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEPT., OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D. C., June 27, 1 A. M.

Probabilities.

For the Middle and Eastern Atlantic coasts: Warmer Southwest winds, possibly shifting to northerly, except the southern stations, rising barometer and generally clear weather.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

It is estimated that 10,00 people went on excursions yesterday to Rockaway, Coney Island and other places.

The New York Orangemen have voted not to parade July 12th, but will visit the Centennial.

Ex-Mayor Eugene T. Miles, of Fitchburg, Mass., died Monday morning of an apoplectic fit. He was 49 years old.

The thunder storm was severe in Massachusetts and New Hampshire Sunday night and buildings were fired by lightning in several places.

A serious colliery explosion occurred Monday at Shirley Pit, Sheffield, Eng., and several miners were killed. Five bodies were recovered.

The striking colliers at Durham have agreed to arbitration.

During an altercation between her husband and other men, at Medway, Mass., Saturday night, Mrs Nancy Tubbs became frightened, went into convulsions, and died at midnight.

A proclamation was issued by President Grant yesterday recommending a proper religious observance throughout the Nation of the Centennial Fourth of July.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Troubles in the Cabinet—The Eastern Question.

LIVERPOOL, June 26. The Post's London correspondent says he learns from a trustworthy source that serious differences exist in the Cabinet on the Eastern question, and intimates that the present policy in Disraeli's and not Derby's. The correspondent says the reason why such obstinate silence is observed in Parliament on the policy of the Government on this question is, that debate would make manifest these differences which could not fail to prove very prejudicial to the Government. Derby and Stafford Northcote, Chancellor of the Exchequer, on the one hand, and the Premier, Mr. Hunt, the Lord of the Admiralty, and the Marquis of Salisbury, Secretary of State for India, on the other, are widely at variance on the extremely serious point of the amount of support to be awarded to Turkey by England in the event of a crisis. Every one is hoping for the best, but nobody's eyes can be closed to the alarming resemblance the present situation bears to that immediately preceding the Crimean war. If we do not this time drift into hostilities it certainly will not be owing to any and energy in the cause of peace of Disraeli's Government. The Post is a liberal journal.

The Anglo-Russian Imbroglio.

A Paris correspondent of the Times quotes a despatch to the Russian Telegraphic Agency, which concludes as follows: "If complications arise between Turkey and Servia they must be considered as a result of the material and very obvious support extended to Turkey by England." The correspondent adds: "Russia, despite the dexterous remarks of her official agency, knows perfectly well that England did not give Turkey any material support against the insurgents. England never pursued any other policy than non-intervention. She has concentrated a fleet to maintain that policy, and when she refused to adhere to the Berlin memorandum she did not shrink from backing up her theory in favor of non-intervention by a formal engagement not to intervene. The engagement is in decided terms and is in the hands of Gortschakoff."

Russia to aid Servia.

A Berlin despatch reports public opinion in Russia much excited. It is threatened that the Russian Government will sustain Servia in breaking through the military cordon with which she has been surrounded by Turkey.

Turkish Finance.

The New Free Press of Vienna says the Porte, with a view of establishing his financial administration, intends to apply at London for qualified British officials willing to enter the Turkish service.
